

Washtenaw County Road Names
Official Names As Shown in the Road Commission Minute Books.

The following Washtenaw County road names were obtained from the minutes of the Good Roads Commission (1915-1919) and the Washtenaw County Road Commission (1919 through December 31, 1936). Some of these original road names have since been changed and if this is the case the current road name is shown in parenthesis. Minute entries follow; it often being a description of the road location. Date of entry into the minutes is shown.

This list incorporates only those roads that were "officially" named in the minutes but it is quite evident that not all roads were officially named, or if they were the action was not entered in the minutes. Many other roads are referred to by a name in the minutes but there appears no official action in the minutes giving these roads their name.

During the period 1924 through 1934 the Washtenaw County Road Commission created a series of road maps for the county and a number of additional road names are shown on these maps. On a county map created by Harry Raschbacher in 1937 all of the road names we currently have are shown, except for the Pontiac Trail, which on the map is named Milford Road, and Fuller Road. The minutes of the Washtenaw County Road Commission were examined through December 31, 1936, plus the Pontiac Trail item. It is quite possible that the existing road names were made official after that date.
