

COMMITTEE TO PROMOTE SUPERIOR TOWNSHIP – “One Superior Place” Meeting December 2, 2020

Remarks and Announcements – Brenda Baker, Carla Bisaro and Nancy Caviston attended; no regrets were received.

Library Display/Bookmarks/Superior Places Binders – The situation continues unchanged at the library, which is still under pandemic quarantine. At the Township Hall lobby, the supply of bookmarks appears diminished, and the Superior Places binder, missing in October, was still not in evidence in early November.

Internet/Website – No particular changes have been noticed on the Township website. We will maintain this agenda item, monitoring the website for notable information or format changes.

New Resident Welcome Packet – We will postpone progress on this effort until after the first of the new year, since it may take some detective work to determine availability of a Township business list. This list is the last item to complete our welcome packet prototype.

Superior Places – The committee did a final examination of the three most recent Superior Places descriptions. With some suggested revisions, Birds in Superior Township, Muddy Acres Flower Farm, and Community Organic Garden at Conservancy Farm will be ready to submit for inclusion on the Township website. Discussion of these items led to the suggestion of a profile of the Hamlet of Superior. The other Superior Places options on the agenda were not discussed.

Events, Outreach and Community Pride – We have not been able to monitor supplies of the “Where Do You Live?” poster in the Township vestibule during the most recent quarantine; Dixboro Farmers’ Market will remain inactive until its 2021 spring re-opening; the Township marquee use has been switched to coronavirus information. Carla’s Re/Max real estate contact reacted positively to information about the online listing of Superior Places information, and we might contact other real estate agencies to gauge their interest as well.

Interface with Township Regarding Community Identity/Annual Report to the Township Board – Brenda will combine these two agenda items as she prepares her annual report to a newly configured Board. We will seek input from the Board as to appropriate action of this committee and its mission.

Committee Business and Development – This agenda item was not addressed.

Schedule Next Meeting – The next meeting is scheduled via Zoom for 7:00 p.m., Wednesday, January 20, 2021.
