

COMMITTEE TO PROMOTE SUPERIOR TOWNSHIP – “One Superior Place” Meeting January 20, 2021

Remarks and Announcements – Brenda Baker, Carla Bisaro and Nancy Caviston attended; Brenda told of her inability to deal with the Board of Trustees due to conflict with January and February meeting date changes.

Library Display/Bookmarks/Superior Places Binders – The situation continues unchanged at the library, which is still under pandemic quarantine. At the Township Hall lobby, the supply of bookmarks appears diminished; the Superior Places binder, missing in October, was still not in evidence in early November. After the most recent Township Hall closing, whereabouts of the binder is unknown.

Internet/Website – With no reported use of the website, there was no discussion of this topic.

New Resident Welcome Packet – Brenda has confirmed that she will contact the Township’s Planning Department to seek a list of local businesses. This list is the last remaining piece for the assembly of a prototype New Resident Welcome Packet.

Superior Places – With proprietor approval of the Muddy Acres Flower Farm profile, the most recently completed three Superior Places descriptions -- Birds in Superior Township, Muddy Acres Flower Farm, and Community Organic Garden at Conservancy Farm -- are ready to submit for inclusion on the Township website. A new description of the early Panama and Superior hamlets was submitted, waiting for illustrations. Other longstanding suggestions for Superior Places descriptions were not addressed.

Events, Outreach and Community Pride – Supplies of the “Where Do You Live?” poster in the Township vestibule have not been recently checked; Dixboro Farmers’ Market will remain on the agenda but inactive until its 2021 spring re-opening; the Township marquee use has been switched to coronavirus information. Real estate contact will continue to be attempted to spread information about the online listing of Superior Places.

Interface with Township Regarding Community Identity/Annual Report to the Township Board – As noted in her remarks, due to meeting date conflicts, Brenda has not been able to communicate with the Township Board to inquire about the Board’s interest in our committee or to submit our Annual Report. She hopes to accomplish these tasks in March.

Committee Business and Development – This agenda item was not addressed.

Schedule Next Meeting – The next meeting is scheduled via Zoom for 7:00 p.m., Wednesday, February 17, 2021.
